

CHARLIE HIGSON , THE ENEMY SERIES

Book one: The enemy By Charlie Higson

REVIEWER: Linus Mealey, aged 10

The first book, in the series of five, is a tale of children trying to survive in a post-apocalyptic world. It describes how a group of children lives have been changed after everyone over 14 has died and are now Zombies. The kids are living in Waitrose in London and are trying to get to Buckingham palace, a safe zone. This book is not for the fainthearted as people die and there are gory scenes. I hope they make a film out of these books as I can imagine the characters and events will look good on screen.

Suitable for aged 12 plus.
